Pets of the Week

Chief

5 years 12 weeks, Labrador Retriever, chocolate, short coat, male, 78 pounds
Chief is a handsome chocolate Lab that was found abandoned in a foreclosed home without food or water. Chief is a friendly boy who loves attention. He walks very well on a leash. He doesn't do well with other large, playful dogs, but he does fine with calm, laid back dogs. He would be just fine as an only dog, too. He would love to get all his people's attention. Adopters will need to be very diligent in learning and practicing proper introductions when Chief is in a situation of meeting a new dog. He has not lived with children, but we think he would be fine. We are recommending that he not go to a home with children under the age of 6. Chief will be a wonderful companion dog for the right adopter.

Ashley

1 year 11 months, DSH, brown Tabby, short coat, female, 6.6 pounds
Ashley was rescued from a local shelter while she was expecting. Soon after, she gave birth to a litter of six. Her foster mom says she was the very best mom ever and gave her babies the best care. Now it is her turn to find her forever home. She is a small petite girl with beautiful gold highlights and very unusual markings in her coat. She is very calm for such a young girl, and will do well with just about everyone.

Flower Mound enacts water restrictions

STAFF REPORTS

With meteorologists predicting the that drought affecting the Dallas/Fort Worth area will continue through next summer, North Texans have begun taking measures to protect water supplies, our most precious natural resource. In accordance with the contract between Flower Mound and Dallas Water Utilities, one of the community's two water providers, the town Monday enacted the following water conservation measures beginning:

Mandatory:

Residents and businesses are prohibited from watering lawns, gardens or landscaping between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. daily.

Voluntary:

Residents and businesses with a street address ending in an even number, and for locations without an address, are requested to limit watering landscaped areas with hose-end sprinklers or automatic irrigation systems to Sundays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays.

Residents and businesses with a street address ending in an odd number are requested to limit watering landscaped areas with hose-end sprinklers or automatic irrigation systems to Saturday, Monday and Wednesday.

Apartments, office buildings, complexes or other property containing multiple addresses shall be identified by the lowest address number.

Watering landscaped areas is permitted at any time if it is by means of a hand-held hose, faucet-filled bucket or drip irrigation.

The conservation measures will remain in effect indefinitely until water supplies reflect a significant improvement and Dallas Water Utilities lifts all contractually-obligated restrictions.

For additional voluntary water conservation measures and tips and information about the town's water conservation program, visit www.flower-mound.com/utilities/water.php or contact the public works department at 972-874-6400.
